2nd Annual WCAS "BBC" Night

How about a fun evening dedicated to YOUR art and your own artistic growth? All in a friendly social context. That WAS the idea behind the first annual "Bring, Brag and get Comments" on a piece of your artwork.

So - something similar will take place for our 2nd annual BBC night.

Each attending member is invited to bring in a current art work. The design of the evening is to present your piece in an informal fashion and then tell us a little bit about it. It can be as simple as what you like about it.

That way, we can get some additional insights into who we all are as artists and the common bonds that we share throughout our artistic journeys.

Additionally, those of you that have been doing the artist trading card prompts will have a chance to share your works and, of course, to do some trading in order to add to your artist trading card collections.

Light refreshments and snacks will be provided. Come out and enjoy a relaxed social evening with your fellow WCAS members. Bring a friend if you like :)
