Deborah Guthrie, Mixed Media

Deborah Guthrie is an award winning mixed media artist and an art instructor. Her passion for art started as a kid when she got "a learn to draw kit" for Christmas and it has never stopped. She graduated from college in Visual and Creative Arts.

She loves to awaken the creativity in herself through research and exploration and to encourage others to realize their creativity and its value. Deborah leads a creative life and her art interests include painting with acrylics on any surface, silk painting, batik, working with fabrics, collage and various types of printing.

She teaches art to adults with developmental disabilities both privately and as an evening interest course with the Ottawa-Carleton District School Board. Her most current work has been the development of a series of classes called "If Popeye Was An Artist" aimed at helping new, emerging and questioning artists realize their style and potential.

A member of The Ottawa Mixed Media Artists, The Kanata Art Club and West Carleton Arts Society she participates in a number of group exhibitions each year both juried and non-juried. She has had a number of solo shows and has also joined two other artists in exhibiting as the 3D's.
