Denise Vieira, Mosaic Artist

I am a self taught mosaic artist and found my passion in December 2009 after attending a workshop. I had to bring my own drawing and was given the tools to play for 7 hrs. The feeling of seeing my vision come to life that day haunted me through the holidays and I knew I had to keep exploring it. In March of 2010, I got all my supplies squeezed into my one bedroom condo, and I haven't stopped since.

Most of my artwork expresses an emotional theme and is inspired by the human figure's ability to convey and express the complex humanity of the emotional, physical, mental and spiritual interrelationships and their expressions of a human experience.

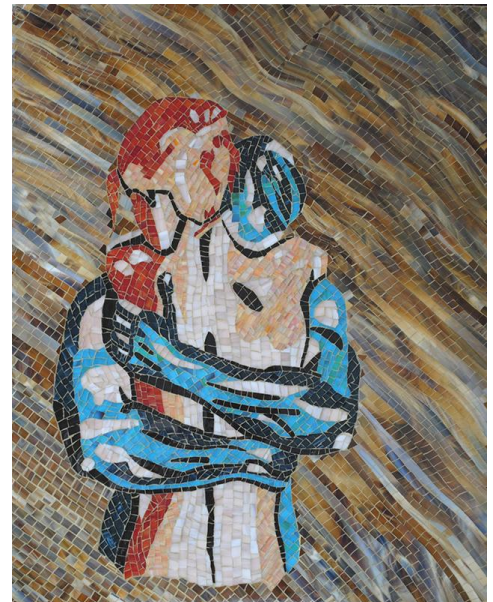

My style is influenced by photography of the human form, it's light and dark effects, it's perspective, as well as by the "candid" effect. The human form conveys an emotional theme through it's physical attributes, and that is where my creative vision unfolds.

My medium is mosaic. I use vibrant colors, often disregarding the natural color of the object. I currently work with stained glass that I personally cut, piece by piece, then organize with careful consideration of color, contrast and composition to convey emotion. There is an individual human story unfolding in each of my mosaics; an expression of the human spirit that I hope to evoke in you, my viewer.
