Margaret Ferraro, Artist

Artist Margaret Ferraro divides her time between her two disciplines- teaching and painting. Over the last decade Margaret has built a reputation as a teacher of figure drawing, and pastel and plein air workshops.

Believing that a strong foundation in drawing unlocks the keys to self expression, Margaret urges artists of all ages to build this skill. In Pastel, oil or acrylic Margaret teaches many courses, including a 2 or 5 day introductory course.

She teaches at her country home/studio, in an intimate non-judgmental setting, and in schools, for various art organizations, Algonquin College, Sir Sandford Fleming College. Margaret has exhibited widely throughout Canada and the United States, and has participated in the Pastel Society of America show, Pastel Artists of Canada, and Pastel society of Eastern Canada and many others.

In subject matter, Margaret has extensive experience in figure work, and rotates through the seasons in landscape (spring and summer), in gardens (florals-any time they are blooming!), with as much plein air time she can squeeze in.

The continuous thread being solid drawing and composition skills-the ultimate training.
